FOREWORD

The world has just witnessed history's greatest unleashing of hate, greed, and lust, with resulting waste, destruction and death. If peace and stability are to be achieved, the groundwork must be laid for understanding, tolerance and co-operation through education. These pages tell the story of the FINDLAY PROJECT—the development of disciplines, habits, attitudes, alert minds, and strong bodies. The raw material is the youth of Findlay; the product, worthy World Citizens.

DEDICATION

Through the halls of Findlay High School echo the famous words from Lincoln's Gettysburg address. "We here highly resolve, that these dead shall not have died in vain, and that this government of the people, by the people, and for the people shall not perish from the earth."

During these past years of war, many fine boys, whom many of us knew and loved, gave their lives for the sake of democracy, for the four freedoms, for all of us.

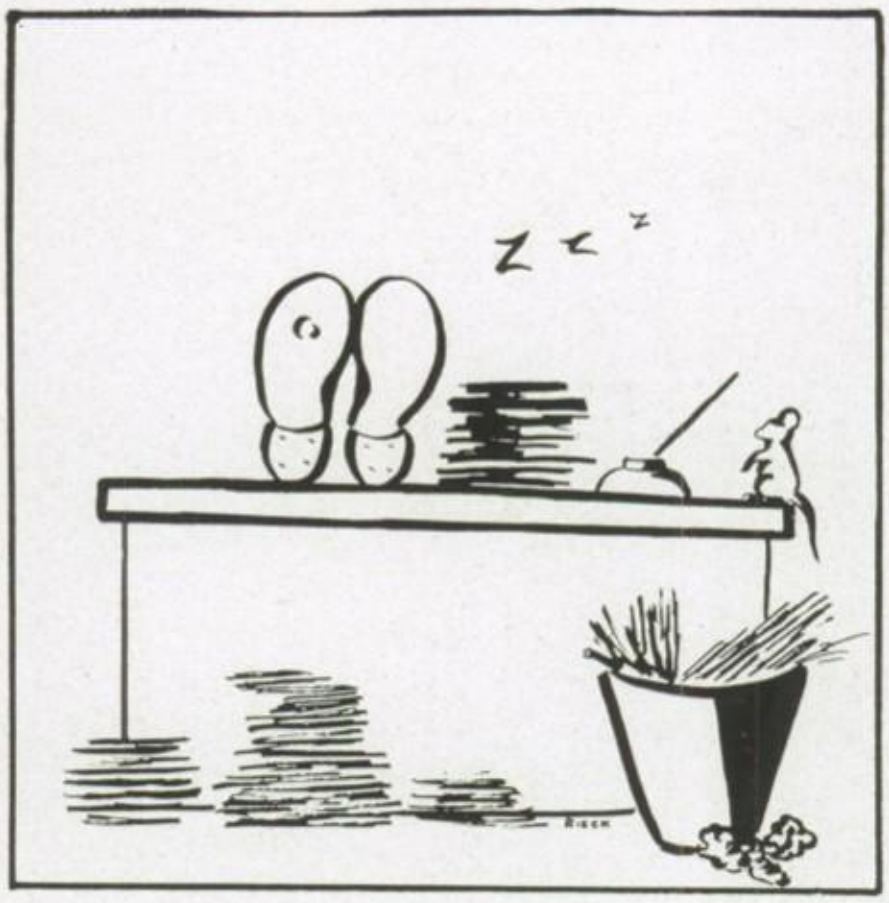
In order that these boys, who were so recently taken from us, may have a lasting memorial to their great sacrifice, the Trojan has been dedicated to the Gold Star Alumni.

It was not so long ago that they too walked through the halls of Findlay High, sat in classrooms, played in the gymnasium, participated in chapels, partook of their favorite dish after school in their favorite store and did the very things that the students do today.

When war came and they were called upon to join the services, they cheerfully gave "their last full measure of devotion." They were not regretful or angry, for they knew that the future of the world lay in their hands, and willing hands they were. They fought hard and died hard to preserve such things as the school, the church and the home they had left forever.

We cannot hope to repay them merely by writing down a few words of gratitude. We cannot hope to bring them back, but we can hope to preserve their fine spirit and devotion.

Humbly, and sincerely, the 1946 Trojan has been dedicated to these unsung heroes, the Gold Star Alumni.



The Engineering Staff

To plan, execute and evaluate a project of this magnitude requires an engineering staff of well trained, devoted men and women. We are proud to present a staff of experts who are giving their time, energy and their lives to the Findlay Project—engineers in the vital task of developing of human possibilities.

Activities

The development of the habits and attitudes essential for democratic living takes place through experiences in living and working together. In the co-operative planning and administration of assemblies, clubs, and social activities we learn to recognize the worth of every individual, and concern for the welfare of others. Also, the need for responsibility as well as the enjoyment of privileges in a democratic society.

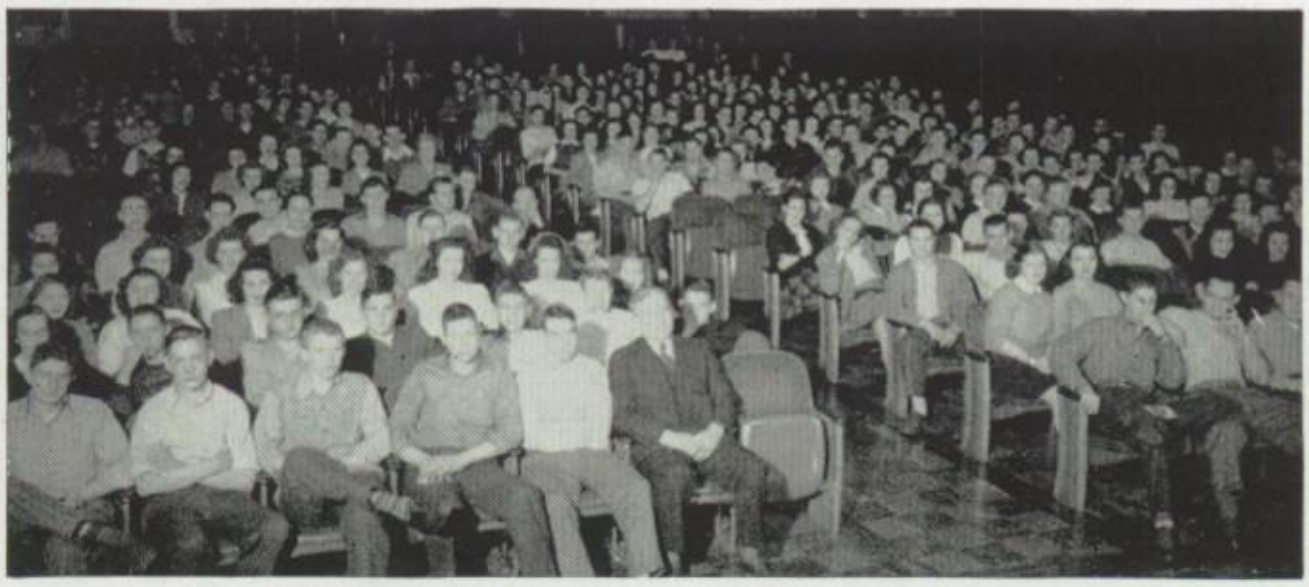
One of the character building forces of this construction project is the Thespians. With grease paint and script individual characters are built into an exciting mystery or an all-American family, under the direction of Mr. Hall. The future Sarah Bernhardt's and John Barrymore's of the dramatic world are being molded right here in the presence of the community. When one smiles at fellow students, one may be smiling at the future's greatest dramatic stars.

CHAPELS

Whether it is realized or not one of the fundamental tools in the development of character and personality in Findlay High, is the weekly chapel programs. To the participants, they give a feeling of satisfaction, self-assurance and the knowledge of a job well done. To the student body, they provide them each week with something worthwhile to think about and should fill them with a sense of pride in the fact that F. H. S. has some of the finest chapel programs in the country. Everyone should appreciate the fine efforts that are put into the practice and presentation of each chapel program. A visitor stated that F. H. S.'s chapels were the most interesting productions he has seen in any high school. It is rather hard to believe that exclusive of choir participation, more than one-third of the student body take part in chapel each year by writing and delivering talks, directing the devotionals and presenting musical numbers, speeches, reading scriptures, reciting poems, or leading the Pledge of Allegiance. Religion and reverence to God are two important factors in the building of a full life so Findlay High School tries to maintain this spirit in chapel programs.



FUTURE TEACHERS OF AMERICA

Second Row: Phyllis Eakin, Joan Hamilton, Dick Kelley, Joe Fassett, Rex Medlock, Jean Shaefer, Joan Jones.
Third Row: Jane Frowine, Janet Bradley, Mary Jo Kownatzky, Ann Rees, Barbara MacGregor, Pat Gillett, Rex Sites.

The Future Teachers of America, better known as F. T. A., has as its objective, to help interested students learn more about the teaching profession.

Each member of the organization is given the opportunity of practice teaching in the class he desires. When teachers are called away in an emergency, members of the F. T. A. are called upon to take over.

MATH CLUB

The Math Club is probably one of the most successful clubs in Findlay High School. This may be an unusual statement, yet it is true, because the members attend meetings only when they are interested in the subject, which has been announced previously.

The Math Club, whose intention it is to study mathematical devices and machines, has its meetings either during school or at night, depending on the topic.

OFFICE HELPERS

Students willing to devote their time to checking attendance, running errands, and helping other students who come to the office for lost articles or conferences, come under the heading of office helpers.

Newly organized, the Senior Civics Club has proved a remarkable success. The purpose of the club is to allow free discussions on any subject among its student members.

LIBRARY ASSISTANTS

Library assistants perform the valuable tasks of checking out books, filing returned books, checking attendance and in general helping the other students who are in the library.

These assistants from the Library Science class plus a few volunteers give their regular study halls over to helping in the library.

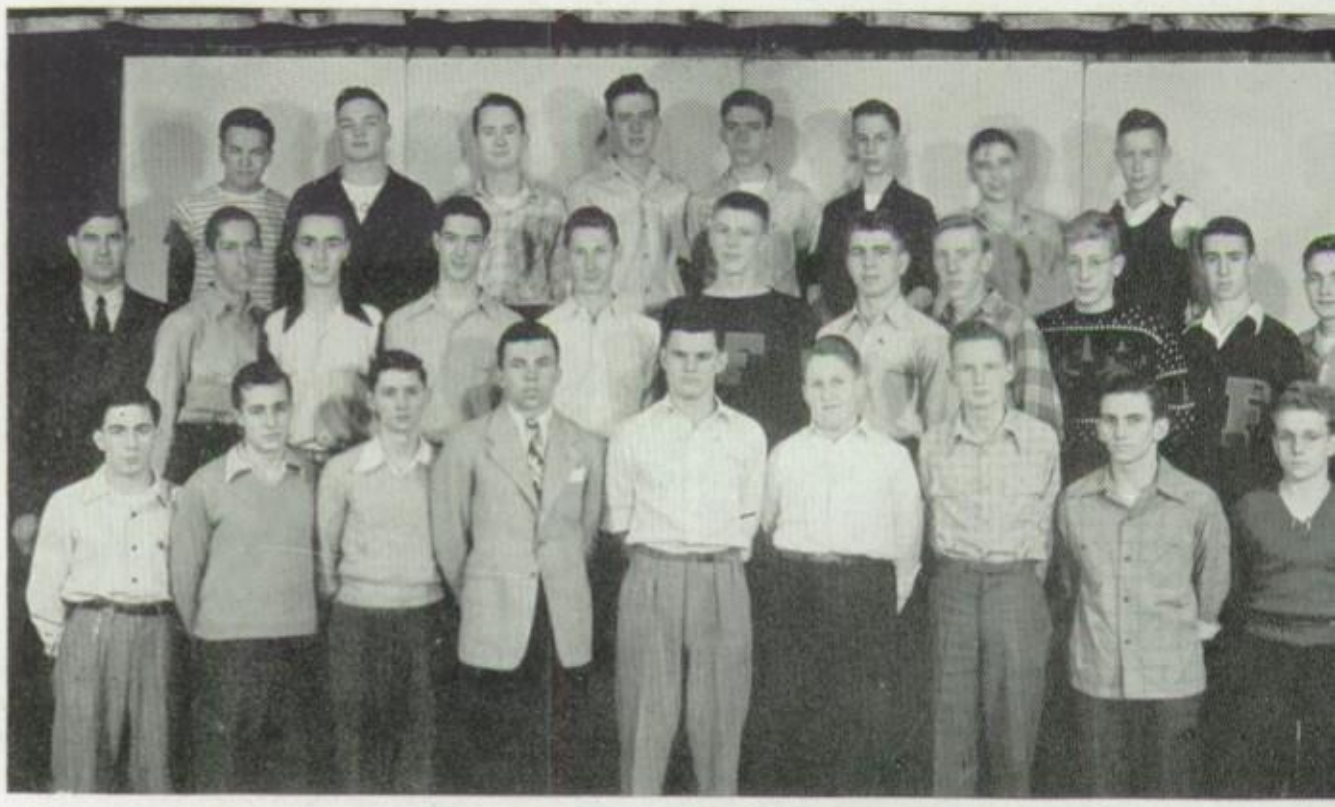
SCIENCE CLUB

To increase their knowledge of science, by studying the achievements of scientists, by experimenting and constructing scientific exhibits and models.

To encourage participation in State Scholarship Tests, Science Talent Search Examinations, Junior Academy of Science, competition for the Bausch-Lomb award.



First Row: Frank Anast, George Siefred, Robery Zender, Robert Albright, Nolan Ferguson, Larry Murray, Bob Nelson, Tom Kennedy, Kinney Smith.

SENIORS

Second Row: Mary Ellen Boehm, Marian Orthey, Lester Tesnow, Jack Bonnel, Charles Magoon, Jerry Hix, Ruth Jordahl, David Loy, Robert Weissling.

One of the highest honors which can be bestowed on a student is that of being a member of the National Honor Society. Fifteen per cent of the Senior Class are allowed to belong. Five per cent of these are chosen in the junior year and the remaining ten per cent in the senior year.

NATIONAL HONOR SOCIETY

Second Row: Margaret Folk, Allan Libbe, Paul Howard, John Bradley, Oscar Bradfute.
Third Row: William Pampel, Jean Shafer, Darl Ault, Jack Myers.

Any student who has maintained a "B" average throughout his four years of high school is eligible.

The next requisite of these students is to fill out a service blank, listing the services he has rendered to the school. This is checked by various faculty members. After these blanks are turned in, another list is prepared with the names of the remaining candidates on it. This is passed out among the candidates and faculty and are graded by them on leadership and character. After tabulation the highest five and ten per cent are admitted to the Society. No one factor figures more than the others. All four must be excellent.

STUDENT COUNCIL

This construction project has a group of foremen, the reliable student council representatives. Many of the school's activities have been planned and supervised by this loyal group. Sponsoring dances, selling stationery, reconverting the old band room and other activities have made this group a busy one. Twenty-two citizens of this community, one elected by each home room, constitute the representative government, the link between faculty and students, and are the foremen of our engineering project. Here we learn the characteristics of democratic government by practice. The student council has done a good job of guiding this engineering project through a prosperous year.

BIRD CLUB

Second Row: Donald Warnick, Douglas Rees, Robert Howard, Keith Bushong, Gene Patterson, Theodore Claflin, Thomas Miles.
Third Row: Phillip Broughten, Mary Murphy, Kay Pressnell, Ann Murray, Sara Caldwell, John Thatcher.

In keeping with their objective to conserve and restore wild life, the Findlay Bird Club takes care of the Bird Sanctuary, distributing bird seed throughout the winter season, planted 1,000 fine seedlings this year as part of reforestation project.

PROJECTION CLUB

Third Row: Virgil Bender, John Young, Paul Feller, William Pampell.

Through the work of this club the visual education program in the school is carried out. The members operate and take care of all of the projection equipment and films in the school.

The officers for this year were president, Lester Tesnow; vice-president, Ed Smith; and secretary, Bob Swisher. This club is under the direction of P. S. Hochstettler.

Findlay High is fortunate indeed to have such a well organized and efficiently run cafeteria. Each noon hungry crowds rush to take their place in line. Many students, as well as the cook, give generously of their time to prepare these meals regularly. The service is efficient, the food good, the surroundings pleasant. What more could one want?

This year's Blue and Gold received a second place rating in the Columbia Scholastic Press Association's annual contest. This is the first year the paper has belonged to this organization.

Departments

The development of skills, abilities and the acquisition of knowledge are equally as important in helping individuals to make their maximum contribution to community welfare as they are important for individual security.

These developments which will function in the lives of good citizens in a democratic society are presented in the curricular program of classes, the library, shops, and laboratories.

MUSIC

An appreciation of music is one of the finest things one may get out of life. Well chosen and expertly played music is an enjoyment no well-balanced individual should be without.

The music department with its adept instructors, not only affords the opportunity for those gifted with musical ability to smooth the rough edges, but also provides the richness of musical production to the entire community. The upholding of this traditional asset should be the mainstay of all of the citizens of the community, and the nation. One of the most important factors of this project is the basis for an understanding and appreciation of the finer things in life. The world is full of music, and it must continue to provide the fulfillment of many dreams.

OPERETTA

The operetta given this year, "Blossom Time", was among the finest operettas ever presented at Findlay Senior High School.

It is hard to imagine the number of hours of work and the cooperation of so many departments necessary to put on such a production.

The art classes and the wood shop were responsible for the authentic scenery, and the lighting and stage crews played very important parts. The Home Economics group had a tremendous task in the care and assigning of costumes. This is naming only a few of the groups that worked hard to make the operetta a success.

The cast worked diligently from January until March preparing their parts.

The chorus and orchestra also gave of their time and talents. All were blended together under the skillful direction of W. Oscar Jones who should receive the most credit of all, for he not only directed the orchestra, chorus and cast, but supervised all production work as well.

MAKE-UP STAFF

Standing: Nancy Nelson, Charles Magcon, Ruth Jordahl, Nancy McCall, David Loy.

The problems of selecting a theme, carrying it out through the pages, deciding what pictures should go into the annual, and arranging the order of events were all tasks of the make-up staff. Many hours were spent on the arrangement and rearrangement of the book.

The fine job these people performed cannot be overlooked. They had to start with nothing save an idea and then materialize it into a reality in order that the other departments might finish the job.

EDITORIAL STAFF

Once the annual was made up the editorial board went to work. Arrangements for the taking of pictures, mounting the pictures, identifying personalities, making the contracts with the printer and engraver, choosing a a cover, soliciting the advertisements, selling the book, writing the descriptions, drawing the diagrams, and solving the multitude of other problems, constituted the work of this board. All of the finishing touches and distribution were taken care of by the people pictured above.

In addition to these people were the photographers; Joe Opperman, Carol Presnell, the writers; Ruth Wilson, and Nancy Nelson, faculty supervisors, G. R. Constien—sponsor; J. D. Schmunk—make-up; Miss Ruth Switzer—business; and Miss Clara Eagle—art.

STAFF

Standing: Lois Slager, Barbara Rieck.

The world will always recognize true beauty, and a part of this beauty are the works of art drawn by skilled and inspired artists. A natural talent is needed to develop attractive settings and paintings. These studens who give their time and talents to any work are highly commended. All may appreciate the time and effort put into the montages and artistic work which is shown on these pages. Many hours were required to assist with the planning of this book, laying out page, creating designs, and developing drawings which were used for many of the division pages and etchings. Learning to co-operate, and to make use of talent and ability, are the main problems in the life which all are faced with in getting along in the world.

ADVERTISING STAFF

To be able to sell something, whether it be merchandise or one's own abilities, is the keynote in every occupation. The experience received in soliciting without help, to business places and collection for these advertisements is one which gives a practical experience. It is no small job for those on this staff to prepare the ads in accordance with the wishes of the business men, collect the money, and distribute the annuals. Tomorrow's citizens are well on their way to becoming a working member of their society.

The business manager for this year is Richard Treece, with Bob Swisher as his assistant. Kathleen Stimmel, circulation manager; Jean Turman, assistant.

Physical Fitness

The functioning of an alert mind can operate most efficiently in strong healthy bodies. The development of appreciations for habits and for maintaining healthy minds in healthy bodies is carried out in the gymnasium, health laboratories, physical examinations, interscholastic and intramural sports programs, and athletic associations.

From four straight losses to five straight victories—that's the Horatio Alger record of this band of stout-hearted Trojans.

The inability to crash through to early season successes was aided and abetted by an overabundance of sickness, injuries, inexperience, and bus fires. These obstacles overcome, Coaches Yawberg and Bikle were able to mold together a consistent winner. The line became impregnable, and as it did, the veteran backs began to click.

The high-light of the season was reached when the Trojans upset the highly favored South Tigers, holding them to a net minus five yards. A victory over Fostoria in the season's finale, a high-light in any season, climaxed the campaign.

Jim Yoxsimer, center, and Dick Treece, half-back, were honored with berths on the all-league team.

The remarkable record of this year was beyond the expectations of many fans. This was largely due to the fact that the team consists mainly of sophomores with the exception of two juniors.

Within the next two years this team, as teams in the past will undoubtedly help to uphold the standard of the school. For the third straight year, Coach Carl Bachman's team has won the Buckeye League, this year without a defeat against them.

Bowling was reinstated as an intramural sport this year at F. H. S. after an absence of several years.

The first round started with twelve teams of five, each bowling two lines. A second round was also started in the spring with four on a team and bowling three lines.

P. C. Hochstettler acted as sponsor for the organization.

NURSES EXAM

HOME NURSING

FIRST AID

Useful citizens must be able to adapt themselves to any circumstances and know what to do in any emergency in order to preserve human life. Students enrolled in the nursing course learn how to take care of invalids, sick patients, babies, and shut-ins.

Underclassmen

By this time the experimenting is drawing to a close. The finished product is beginning to take shape. One may look upon it now and almost know what it will look like. But changes are still inevitable, as they will be throughout the lives of all of these young men and women. This is what makes life so good, for our mistakes may be rectified and our good deeds continued.

Still in the casting stage of becoming useful citizens are the underclassmen. What is in store for them remains to be seen. But no matter what it might be, they will be equipped to cope with anything which might arise. A full, rich background of high school experience will be theirs. They are a part of this great project to mold better citizens for tomorrow and the next day.

Seniors

On the following pages are presented the students who have lived, worked and played together in an atmosphere of understanding, tolerance and cooperation. In such an atmosphere these elements in the Findlay project have developed the disciplines, habits, attitudes, skills and healthy bodies so essential for world citizenship.

SENIOR HISTORY

At long last we have arrived! How hard we have worked to become dignified seniors. As we walk down the aisles of the auditorium, the girls in white with luscious red roses, the boys in navy blue, blowing the tossles of their caps away from their faces, we have little left of our high school days but memories.

One girl remembers how embarrased she was when, as a sophomore, she interrupted a biology class mistaking it for her English class. She also remembers those kind seniors who stood in the halls and taunted "what's the matter are you lost?" as she passed from one class to another. She wasn't lost! Anyhow she wouldn't tell them she was.

A senior boy smiles slightly as he remembers his sophomore year as one happy experience. Perhaps he is thinking of the night he took his O. A. O. to see the operetta "Sweethearts".

We all remember the excitment and adventure of our sophomore year.

We remember the Junior Play "Lena Rivers", the one act plays—"Elmer and the Lovebug", "Mooncalf Mugford", and "The Happy Journey", and, the Senior Play "Icebound".

Oh how well we remember struggling with our American Legion essays which were written for the first time by the entire student body.

We yelled ourselves hoarse at the Basketball Team who went victorious through twenty games, only to be defeated by Toledo Woodward in the first round of the regional tournament at Bowling Green.

That boy who always seemed to be sleeping in assembly, thinks of the time he watched movies, taken by Mr. and Mrs. Robert Friers, of the Paricutin Volcano. He remembers being thrilled to his toes by Otto Schact and his dramatic singing and of listening to Chief Justice Carl V. Weygant of the Ohio Supreme Court. That boy fooled a lot of us didn't he?

You know, we weren't the only ones new at Findlay High. Miss Marion Lord, librarian, and Mr. Clifford Hite, instrumental music director, also made their debut.

Spring came and we put our bobby sox and loafers away and replaced them with those ever-lovin' huraches! Frank Sinatra was our number one man of the hour and Mickey MacDonald our favorite orchestra leader—but natch!

It was time for final exams, the prom, which was wonderful (so we heard), baccalaureate and commencement. We had finished our first year at F. H. S. and before we had time to wear out another pair of huraches we were Juniors!!!!!

Now we were middlemen. As we came back something seemed to be missing. Yes, Miss Pearl Moran had resigned her position as English and Journalism teacher. M. C. W. Hunsicker took over management of the Blue & Gold and time marched on!

Mr. Ricketts replaced Mr. Stewart in the machine shop and Mr. Huffman took over the automobile shop in place of Mr. Porter.

We Juniors proudly presented "Ghost Wanted". The Thespians just as proudly presented "Junior's Mustache", "The Opening of a Door", and "Boy Meets Family".

As we continue down the aisle, a boy looks longingly at his junior year chapel seat, now filled with a proud parent, and he remembers hearing Professor George Davis from Purdue University give a program of his "Riley" poems, he remembers the assembly in which Col. A. D. Patterson made the presentation of the "Minute Man" Award for ninety per cent participation in the sale of bonds and stamps, and he remembers two of his fellow juniors receiving awards for winning the "American Legion Essay Contest along with two sophomores and two seniors.

Another boy remembers the football teams and its victories and the basketball team, who tied with Fremont for 1st place in the Buckeye League.

H. M. S. Pinafore made a hit with all sea faring men, and everyone else too.

As one girl looks down at her roses, she remembers the prom with its blue, star studded sky, its rose arbors, lamp posts and big card board trees, and smiles with contentment as she relives her first high school prom.

One boy smiles wickedly as he remembers his front row seat at the Senior Play "Nine Girls". The play had an all-girl cast—remarkable deduction!!

Along came bacalaureate, and commencement and another group of seniors departed.

Before our newest bracelets had had time to turn green, we were seniors!

This year, something was different when we came back to school. We not only were honored with the presence of four new faculty members, Mr. R. S. Miller, Mrs. Lowell, Mr. Yawberg, and Mr. Ferris, but we had another new addition. What was it? Peace. Yes, after four long years of war, we were all thankful and relieved when peace came in the summer of forty-five.

When the leaves started turning gold and red on the trees, we entered the football season with renewed energy.

To get the school year really under way, our representatives presented the Senior Play "Come Rain or Shine," and made a big hit.

The basketball team provided us with many an exciting Friday night. However we danced after those games is still a mystery but we always seemed to be able to.

We seniors will always keep the memories of those dances in the gymnasium.

March came, and along with it the operetta. This year the music department presented "Blossom Time". It made a tremendous hit with old and young alike.

Not long after the operetta the Juniors presented "The Fool." The play ran twc nights instead of the usual one.

This year something else new has been added. Every Tuesday at 3:30 "The Trojan Hour" was presented from the auditorium. (Over WFIN)

Another boy who had supposedly slept through assemblies, recalls with pleasure the entertaining way in which Mr. Glen Morris presented his program on radio and its uses. He remembers also, the program by Mr. Jesse Phillips Robertson in which he showed us various kinds of old musical instruments.

Perhaps he remembers most the impressive program presented by Lt. James C. Whittaker. We had all heard about the crews' 21 days in life boats, but at last we heard it first hand.

Another girl looks at her roses and remembers this year's prom. Oh, if only she had one more high school prom!

Baccalaureate is still fresh in our minds as we finish our walk to the platform.

Now we have received our diplomas and are leaving the auditorium. Our hearts are heavy and there is a lump in each of our throats for now we too are departing —the class of '46.

The challenging world...
beyond the words

Perhaps the most important thing any of us can learn is that education is not just pages filled with words... not just facts and figures and hard-to-remember dates filed neatly away in our minds.

We've discovered that real education is a trained habit of inquiry into the world of thought beyond the textbook. It is such inquiry that has opened... and will open... fabulous new doors in the realm of science and technology. It is such inquiry that will enable us to learn the responsibilities of man in the presence of such knowledge. And in that lies the hope of the world.
